

Al-kindy College of Medicine/University of Baghdad
MBCHB Program

INTERNAL MEDICINE MODULE GUIDE
Year four

2016-2017

Coordinator Dr. Kalawish Ahmed

TABLE OF CONTENT

	Topics	Pages
1	Vision and Mission	1
2	List of Lecturers	2
3	Learning outcomes	3
4	Module content	6
5	Teaching learning methods	10
6	List of Teaching	13
7	Assessment	16
8	Summary	17
9	Reading list	18

Vision:

The internal Medicine module provide knowledge to deal properly with common medical diseases through a precise diagnosis by proper history taking and ideal eliciting of physical signs and scientific use of laboratory, physiological and radiologic investigations and finally the proper treatment and follow up.

Mission

The internal medicine module provide knowledge in dealing with common medical problems as well as casualty cases in the emergency unit, coronary care units, outpatient' clinics and medical wards scientifically and to provide excellence academic medical knowledge.

The further goal is to create a basic resource for the future specialist and subspecialist in the different branches of internal medicines.

Objectives

- 1) To provide the students with the fundamental medical knowledge in internal medicine in general and subspecialties of nephrology, endocrinology, hematology and rheumatology needed for diagnosis and management of different medical conditions.
- 2) To have enough practice experience to be able to manage the common medical problems including those need intensive and cardiac care units.
- 3) To be able to provide advices and instructions in different medical conditions.